Linked with a modern celebration of nature brought about by environmental consciousness and a need to connect with one's surroundings, people are no longer retreating to closed rooms. Homeowners and designers are now joining forces to create outdoor settings as comfortable and practical as their interior counterparts, and Inside Out brings these inspirations to life.

Inside Out focuses on furniture, lighting, and other traditionally indoor features that have been used in outdoor settings: fully equipped kitchens, fireplaces, gyms, and spas. These new amenities provide all that is necessary for delightful moments at home—but outside the house.

Discover new possibilities and inspiring designs that will bring new comforts and added pleasure to your outdoor living spaces.

In recent years, there has been a noticeable increase in the popularity of open-air spaces. As this type of outdoor living has gained greater recognition, these areas have transformed into versatile extensions of the most used interior spaces—kitchens, living rooms, and bathing areas.

Inside Out provides refreshing ideas and creative examples that will help you design a relaxed and personal outdoor living space.
